ENTERTAINMENTS.

Hyperion. Rice's Surprise Party of seventy people will play a return engagement of two performances to-day, afternoon and evening. The company will present the magnificent extravaganza, "1492," which is always well received here. Miss Theresa Vaughan's charming presentation of the German walt and sweet singing has made admirers of all who have seen her. Others deserving of special mention in the long cast are John Keefe as Teuben Haysseed; Gilbert Gregory as the Irish policeman; Miss Marie Broughton Marlowe, a sister of Mrs. Taber; Miss Doty Neville as the Infanta Catalina, and Miss Edith Sinclair as the cook of the royal household. The dancing specialties are numerous, those who are most conspicuous being Miss Mabel Clark, the sensational toe danseuse; the charming little Hengler sisters, and the grotesque dancer, Augustus Schilke. The sale of seats is now open. "1492" matinee to-day.

Mr. G. B. Bunnell brings a most excellent attraction to the Hyperion on Wednesday evening next week in that immense favorite, Tony Pastor, and his great double company, specially engaged in Europe for the Pastor organization. The Sisters Beltry head the forces from the old country. They are superb character artists, dancers and vocalists. Others from abroad are Emily Sells, posturing artiste, and Fritz Young, the comical acrobatic clown; Lydia Dreams, polyphonist, ventriloquist and cartoonist; Miss Maurier, the charming actress and vocalist; Bon Bon and Artino, grotesque, acrobats, gymnasts and clowns; the Sisters Sinter, vocalists, instrumentalists and dancers; and Zarmo, who stands on his head while juggling. Haines and Pettigill, negro comedy team, lead the American contingent, and will be seen in "The Pool Room." Rice and Elmer, as the Rubie and Clutnam, do a comic bar act. Pollie Holmes ranks among the best of the Irish character singers. The Highlands (George and Emma) in their musical act are also prominent members of the Pastor Double company. M. and M. Travels, shadowgraphists, give an entertainment which has many admirers. Tony Pastor himself will appear at every performance and sing his famous songs as only he can sing them. Sale of seats now open.

Grand Opera House. The vivid scenes of the "Land of the Midnight Sun" were thrillingly shown at the performance given at the Grand opera house last night. The towering form of William W. Bittner fits exactly the character of Jason, while Charles Barringer was equally fitted to the part of Sunlocks. Edwin Barbour, the author of the play, is the same Jolly Captain Jollyweather and his round, rosy face adds much to the comedy element. In fact, the whole company deserves praise for the excellent work. The scenic portion of the production is elaborate and the representation of the sulphur mines of Iceland, with the subsequent explosion, is extremely vivid. If you admire strong melodrama, by all means see "Land of the Midnight Sun" at the Grand opera house either the last two performances or evening, when the last two performances will be given. "Land of the Midnight Sun" matinee to-day.

The highly popular comedian, Robert Gaylor, comes on the first three days next week in his eccentric version of "Sport McAllister, One of the 400." The play is very funny and has been reconstructed and is now more amusing than ever. Among the many novel features introduced is a melody taking of certain features in those late successes, "The Gaiety Girl," "Don Juan," "Go Bang," etc. The comedy is bright and has quite a plot; its lines are sparkling and refined in humor, and one finds a laugh in every line. The company includes such well known people as Gilbert and Goldie, Joe Kelly, Sam Ryan, Mabel Craig, Lillie Becker, Lizzie Ennis, May Gaylor, Kathleen Warren and others. "Sport McAllister" matinee Wednesday.

Poll's Wonderland Theater. The last chance to see little Gerlie Cochran in her marvelous exhibition of memory is presented this afternoon and evening at the Wonderland. She is indeed a marvel. The supporting company is excellent. Mr. Poll has arranged for an extraordinary attraction for next week, when Don Juan Calcedo, the king of the wire, will make his first and last appearance in New Haven. Calcedo has finished a six months' run at Koster & Bial's, and is playing a few American engagements previous to his return to Europe, the one at the Wonderland being his only appearance outside the large cities. He will be supported by an uncommonly strong combination of star vaudeville artists.
